Hosted PBX

Looking for a business-class phone service that's reliable, affordable and easy to use? The search is over.

eduroVoice offers a feature-rich hosted voice solution so you can take advantage of the benefits of Voice over IP (VoIP) technology without the headache of managing it in-house. You can present a polished, professional impression with room to grow—all at prices that make good business sense.

PBX Functionality

Our hosted platforms allow advanced PBX functionality and convenience combined with local- and long-distance calling from a single service provider.

Easy to Save

eduroVoice works with EduroStream broadband or your existing high-speed Internet connection with low monthly service fees and without surcharges and taxes.

Flexibility On Demand

eduroVoice works perfectly for companies operating from a single location or multiple satellite offices—including remote and home-based employees. Save on local and long distance charges associated with interoffice calling.

Bigger Means Better

eduroVoice lets small companies function like large corporations. Because eduroVoice is delivered over the Internet, all users have access to the same PBX features regardless of their location worldwide.

Easy to Use

eduroVoice features are easy to customize and use—most are managed online through your EduroVoice Web Portal so you can manage your service from any location.
